The Morfolk and Western Road-A Severe Fall-Strawberries-Personal Notes New Commander.

ience of the Richmond Dispatch. Norpoles, March 24, 1887.

The visiting railroad officials all left the city last night. President Kimball was much gratified with the inspection and predicts a great future for Norfolk. He has faith in the Norfolk and Western road and its auxiliaries, and believes that important operations which ern road and its auxiliaries, and be-lieves that important operations which his company is about to go into will give Norfolk a far greater boom than it ever has experienced. He says the present management has $22,510,140 invested, and the past policy of the management is a guarantee of what may be expected. Over $90,000 was paid the State in taxes last year by his

Both parties are hard at work, and the result is being watched with great interest.

BENOIT-CONSTANT COQUELIN. Most Distinguished Actor from the Comedie Francaise, Paris.

Speaking recently of the company at the Comedie Française, Paris, Sarah Bernhardt said of them: "Together they make the most consummate body of artists in the world," expressing the general opinion in a few words. M. Coquelin was the most illustrious of these distinguished play-ers until a few months ago, when he withdrew from membership with them for the purpose of having a stage of his own. His purpose of coming to the United States has been announced, and the question is, will be succeed here with no adventi-tions advantages to support his art? He plays only in French, and his success or failure will be regarded as in-ple of this country really appreciate the French drama and the French stage. Regarded in this way M. Coquelin's proposed tour is an un-usually interesting announcement.

The life of the great actor presents few facts for recital. He was born at Eoulogne-sur-Mer, France, on January 25, 1841. When eighteen years of age he became a pupil in the Conservatoire. Paris. The next step in his professional life was to membership in the Come-die Française, which he discontinued Marcu 24, 1887.

CHARGE OF FELONIOUS ASSAULT-A DIFFICULTY ABOUT DRINKS.

Beld Bobbery-The Fire Department Reorganization-Southampton and the Atlantic and Danville Bailroad, &c.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.] PETERSBURG, March 24, 1887. An officer from Dinwiddie county is in the city armed with a warrant for the arrest of one Chester Hughes (colored), charged, with felonious assault. From the facts to be gathered in the case it appears that on Tuesday night last, at a store a few miles from town, Hughes and another colored man named Cephas Jenkins got into a quarnamed Cephas Jenkins got into a quar-rel about the payment of drinks. Hughes is reported to have in-vited Jenkins out to settle the matter, and the challenge was accepted. The parties went out, when, it is al-leged, Jenkins was struck on the head by Hughes with some heavy instrument and felled to the ground. It is said that Jenkins's skull was fractured by the blow and that he is not expected to live. Hughes fled to escape arrest and is reported to have been last seen in this city. A description of the fugitive has been left with the police of this city. A valise containing a suit of clothes, a sum of money, a bag of shot, and other articles belonging to Mr. A. M. Orgain, of Dinwiddie county, wasstolen from that gentleman's buggy at Centre warehouse this morning. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of the parties suspected of having committed the theft. The pay-roll of the Petersburg fire department is about $5,500 per year— less than one half of what is paid for the same service in Norfolk or Lynchburg. Under the proposed reorganiza-tion of the department it is presumed that the officers and men will be paid better salaries.

It is probable that an effort will be made by the friends of the Atlantic and Danville Railroad Company to secure an order for a new election in Southampton county on the question of appropriating $150,000 in bonds to the capital stock of the company. The route as proposed for the road will run a distance of about forty miles through the county.

It is hardly probable now that any action will be taken by the Common Council on the proposition recently submitted by the Virginia and Carolina Railread Company for a reorganization on the basis of a sale of the road, with privilege of the purchase of the pro-perty and franchises by the city and the guaranteed stockholders before the 1st of April.
